Council Grants Permit to YMCA To Erect Community Center Here

Redwood City Council Monday night granted a permit to the Young Men's Christian Assn. to erect a community center on Brewster Ave. and Clinton St., across the street from Sequoia High School and adjacent to the First Methodist Church.

Lloyd E. Coldwell, YMCA assistant secretary, said today the priorities board in San Francisco is expected to take the construction of the building here under consideration within the next two weeks and that construction will start as soon as priorities are granted.

The building, if priorities are granted, will be erected on a lot 65 feet on Brewster Ave. and 137½ feet on Clinton St. which has been purchased by D. F. Gatchel, Sequoia instructor and member of the Redwood City YMCA Committee. The YMCA has an option on the lot.

A one-story frame structure with stucco covering to blend with other buildings in the neighborhood is planned. The building will be 50 feet by 34 feet and will house an office, club room and a spacious game room and lobby.

Plans call for an outdoor basketball court and volleyball court and arrangements for other games in back of the building. A long-range program calls for construction of a combination auditorium and basketball gymnasium on the lot in the rear of the structure proposed to be built in the immediate future.

On the building committee are Laurie M. Duncan, chairman; Gatchell; J. Elmer Morrish, chairman of the Redwood City YMCA Committee; Bert L. Werder, James Thomas and Neal Van Sooy.

Maud Bush Trial Set for Nov. 24

Date of trial for Maud Fay Bush, 31-year-old Woodside and Atherton socialite, and Ruby Bennett, her Negro maid, who together face charges of battery and disturbing the peace, has been set for Nov. 24 at 2 o'clock.

The two women were arrested by Redwood City police Sept. 22 on complaint of Estelle Sesscion, Negress who resides at 1307 Hancock St., Redwood City, and later pleaded not guilty to the charges. The defendants went to her home on Hancock St. on Sept. 21, it is alleged, where a fight over Mrs. Bennett's husband ensued.

Mrs. Bush, wife of Lt. Robert J. Bush Jr., naval aviator, resides at 130 Selby Lane, Atherton. She is a member of the San Francisco Junior League.

Wreck Doesn't Halt Inspector

Augustus Lawrence Regan, voting inspector of East Palo Alto's Woodland precinct, Tuesday night encountered difficulties in bringing his precinct's election returns to the San Mateo County Court House.

While en route to Redwood City with the returns which are kept in a large canvas bag resembling a duffle bag, Regan was involved in an automobile accident at Menalto Ave. and Bayshore Hwy., at 11:30 o'clock.

Unable to proceed with his automobile, the 62-year-old man packed the bag of returns down the highway for a mile where he obtained a ride in a waiting truck, and turned the election returns in intact a short time later.

Regan's car collided with one driven by Nicholas Hugh Van Dorn, 20, of 751 Linda Vista, Pasadena, California State Highway Patrol officers reported today.

The voting inspector resides at 2061 Euclid Ave., East Palo Alto.

FHA Executive, Underwriter Speak to Real Estate Board

T. A. Gallagher, FHA executive, and Robert Mathews, assistant underwriter, appeared before the Redwood City-San Carlos District Real Estate Board Monday to explain the "duration" housing program now in effect.

Gallagher also predicted that a new "distress housing" program will be activated soon. The new program, he said, will probably relieve critical conditions in areas of acute housing shortage and will differ from war housing in that there will be no restrictions on occupancy. Activation of the program will depend upon availability of materials and assignment of quotas by the National Housing Agency.

Mathews predicted that the distress housing program would produce homes in the $5000 - $7000 bracket, of a type superior to the war housing structures.

Meanwhile FHA is fostering a four-point program for the duration. Included are (1) advance conditional commitments by FHA on the value it will establish for the purpose of issuing insured mortgages; (2) processing loan application in five working days or seven calendar days to speed transactions; (3) maintaining conservative home property valuations for long term loans, and (4) refinancing distressed old mortgages by consolidating obligations, reducing interest and eliminating service charges, and by extending the period of the loans.

About 30, including bankers and title company representatives as well as realtors, attended the luncheon meeting at Aviation Cafe.

DRUNK DRIVING CHARGE

Elsie Rupracht, 41-year-old defense worker who lives at the Brisbane Auto Court, Brisbane, was in the county jail here Monday on a charge of drunk driving. She was being held in lieu of $100 cash bail. She was arrested by the California Highway Patrol on Bayshore Hwy. near Brisbane at 6:20 p.m. yesterday.

Three Suits Filed In Superior Court

C. J. Husband of San Francisco was named defendant in two separate damage complaints filed here in San Mateo County Superior Court in connection with an automobile accident Sept. 19, on Bayshore Hwy. near South San Francisco.

In his complaint, Leo J. Bonelli of San Francisco, driver of the car which was in collision with Husband's, asks $7500 for injuries and damages to his automobile, while R. B. Ward, a passenger in Bonelli's car, asked $5000 damages for personal injuries.

Hubert C. Woolsey and Donald Conett were named co-defendants in a $15,600 damage suit filed here by Sam Kligeman of San Francisco in superior court.

Kligeman charged negligence on the part of the other two men as causing the three-car crash on Bayshore Hwy., near Brisbane, May 15 of this year.

Judge Sets Oglesby Trial for Dec. 12

Superior Court Judge Aylett R. Cotton Monday afternoon set Dec. 12 as the date of trial of Lee Oglesby, 43-year-old Belmont service station operator charged with statutory rape.

Oglesby is charged with driving a 16-year-old Redwood City girl to the Emerald Lake foothills and raping her. He is free on $2500 cash bail.

Blood Test Indicates Husband Not Father

Clarence Buff of Los Angeles could not be the father of a baby born to Mrs. Helen Buff of Redwood City, as Mrs. Buff had claimed, a physician's report on the results of a blood test presented in Judge Aylett R. Cotton's superior court this week indicate.

Buff had denied that he is the father of the child, Richard Gary, born 10 months after the couple separated, and agreed to submit to a blood test. The blood type of Buff and Mrs. Buff was 0, while the blood type for Richard is B, the test showed.

The blood test is legally accepted in several states but is not conclusive, it was pointed out. Judge Cotton took the case under submission.

In a cross-complaint to a suit for annulment filed by Buff in Los Angeles but transferred here, Mrs. Buff claimed that Buff was the father of her child and asked $10,000 damages for fraud and deceit, claiming that Buff was married to another woman at the time of the couple's marriage in Nevada, Feb. 7, 1942. The child was born Dec. 18, 1943. The couple separated Feb. 20, 1943.

Red Cross Appeals For Armistice Day Blood Donors

More blood donors are needed if this community is to make its quota on Nov. 11. What could be a more fitting Armistice Day tribute to our men at the front lines than to give a pint of blood.

Rear Adm. Ross T. McIntire, surgeons general, USN, said: "Without question the procurement of blood for the armed forces is one of the most important war time activities in America. Thousands of additional donors are needed each week. Our fighting forces must be fully supplied."

The mobile unit will be here on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, from 9:20 a.m. to 1:40 p.m. Please telephone today and make an appointment to be a donor on that day. Here is really a tangible expression of your patriotism. Telephone RC 4750 now.

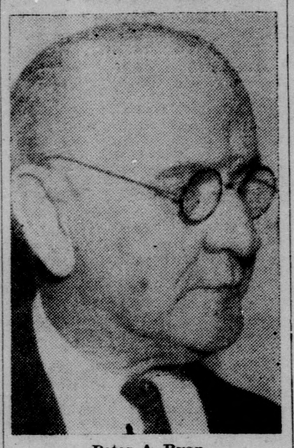
Passes On



Peter A. Ryan

Death Claims Peter A. Ryan

Death Sunday morning claimed Peter A. Ryan, who 50 years ago established the Ryan Drug Store, one of the pioneer business houses of Redwood City.

Mr. Ryan died at his home at 505 Marshall St. following a number of years of failing health.

He first established a store on Main St. in 1896 and later opened a store at the present location at 2009 Broadway. In 1925 the second Ryan Drug Store was opened at 1030 Main St.

Mr. Ryan was born in Brooklyn, N. Y., and was graduated from St. Peter's Academy of that city. He came to San Francisco with his parents in 1884.

His first job, at the age of 16, was with the wholesale drug house of Stearns, Worden & Co., San Francisco, where he served as an errand boy. He was with that concern for 10½ years and then came to Redwood City to establish himself in business. Mr. and Mrs. Ryan made their home on Marshall St. since coming to Redwood City.

Mr. Ryan was the husband of Julia Ryan; father of Edward J. Ryan, city judge of Menlo Park and San Mateo County law librarian, Mrs. Frances O'Brien, John W. Ryan and Anna A. Ryan of Redwood City, Mrs. Rosemary Yeazell of Fresno, and Staff Sgt. Peter A. Ryan, stationed in the army at Spokane, who arrived here today by plane; brother of Catherine O'Neill of San Francisco; grandfather of Patricia and Carol Ryan, Peter and Frances Ann Yeazell, Sheila and Maureen O'Brien.

Mr. Ryan was the second president of the Redwood City Chamber of Commerce, second president of the Redwood City Eagles' Aerie, of which he was a charter member, a charter member of the San Mateo Council Knights of Columbus, member of Court Madrone, Foresters of America, and Holy Name Society of Mt. Carmel Church.

Pallbearers were Omar Doyle, Daniel R. Stafford, Edmund Scott, Edward I. McAuliffe, Martin J. Flynn and August Fromm Sr.

Praises Police Work In Woodside Traffic

Woodside was host to one of its largest throngs last weekend during the dedication of the scout hall in old Independence Hall, but despite the overflow of traffic, no injuries were reported, officials declared in praising the Woodside-Portola police department.

Receiving special commendation from the directors of Woodside's top event of the fall season were Police Officer Frank B. Hill, Joseph Hefner, Henry Barbier, and J. Powell, as well as the Redwood City and San Carlos Sea Scouts.

The dedication of the new scout hall gave about 100 Woodside boys and girls their first centralized meeting place, scout leaders explained.

City To Enter Agreement For Monthly Report on Funds

The Redwood City City Council Monday authorized an agreement between the city and C. G. Uhlenberg, certified public accountant, to have the latter make a monthly audit of and report on the city books and submit the report to the council.

The contract, to become effective Dec. 1, calls for a payment of an amount not to exceed $1500 a year to Uhlenberg for his services. The amount also will include the cost of a yearly audit.

Signing of the contract will solve the problem of the offices of city treasurer and city auditor being held by the same man, which, according to Councilman C. C. Armstrong who championed the change, left the city without a check and balance on its books.

Meanwhile a report from the city tax committee read Monday revealed that through anticipated receipts falling short and exceeding of the budget by the police department and the public works department had caused a reduction in the city surplus of $14,774.36. The report included expenditures and receipts to June 30.

"This should not be allowed to recur," the report stated.

The council took first action towards starting improvements at Jefferson and Whipple. An estimate of costs submitted by Mead totaled $66,114.

The State Highway Dept. wrote the city that it preferred not to add traffic lanes on Hazel, Willow and El Camino Real but Chief of Police C. L. Collins and City Manager Mead reiterated the need and the council instructed Mead to again write the highway department urging the lanes.

The ordinance prohibiting circuses to operate in Redwood City on Sundays was unanimously passed.

The matter of the annexation of the Palomar Park area was again placed on the agenda pending new petitions and a map revising proposed boundaries.

The traffic study committee reported that the site was good at James and Grand and did not see the need of a stop sign at one or both of these streets. The report was filed.

The tax committee's recommendation on licensing public utilities was placed on the agenda.

Abatement proceedings against the Rice property on Edgewood Rd., the Hollenbaugh property at 35 Hudson St., and the Greenbach property on Copley Ave. were all placed on the agenda for the next meeting.

A permit was granted to William B. Hearst to build a 12-unit motel on El Camino between Oak and Roosevelt Sts. The planning commissioin had previously approved the plan.

Marino Merlet was given permission to erect a shed on to his grocery store at 490 Woodside Rd.

The council's approval of the California State War Council Law Enforcement Mutual Aid Plan and the opening of bids on the library property were placed on the agenda.

The planning commission gave a recommendation that an application by the Andrew Investment Co. to erect a sign on El Camino be denied. The council passed a motion concurring with the recommendation.

Sixty-nine persons signed a petition submitted to the council protesting the building of the Christian Church on Brewster and Lowell. City Attorney McCarthy stated that the council couldn't sustain the petition if it wanted to since the church was being built in a district permitting churches.

The council and city employes received an invitation to attend the next meeting of the Peninsula League of California Cities to be held Thursday, Nov. 16, in Atherton with Palo Alto as host city. Dr. Karl F. Meyer, director of the Hooper Foundation for Medical Research will speak on a "Postwar Public Health Program." Councilmen Armstrong, Granger and McNulty, Mayor Hilton, City Manager Mead, City Attorney McCarthy, Building Inspector Laurie Duncan, City Engineer Lyle Winters and City Health Inspector Emil Stein will attend.

A restaurant license was granted to Rocky Basile at 701 El Camino.

A vote of thanks was received from Roy V. Johnson, 209 Lexington Ave., for quick action in clearing the storm sewer between Lexington Ave. and Harrington Ave.

The planning commission reported that the subdivision of Lot 21, Block 28 of Central Park No. 2 complied with requirements and regulations and recommended that the permit be granted. However, the council voted to instruct the city clerk to contact adjacent property owners to give them a chance to protest the subdivision should they desire to do so. The lot, owned by Frank DePatta, is on the corner of Myrtle and James.

Col. F. W. Koester, commanding officer of the San Carlos War Dog Reception and Training center, sent a letter of appreciation on behalf of the personnel thanking Redwood City for many kindnesses and for co-operation extended the personnel of the center.

A letter of appreciation was also received from Mrs. Pearl A. Snider, Ruth and Charlotte.

Dance permits were issued to Yvonne Schlichmann, Court Madrone 158, and Peninsula Lodge of Elks. George Solari queried the council on the possibility of holding a dance on New Year's eve (Sunday) night. The council indicated opposition to any dance on a Sunday.

Lomita Park Woman Injured in Accident

Laura Neist, 43, 110 San Antonio Ave., Lomita Park, was treated at South San Francisco Hospital for minor injuries received at 7:35 p.m. Saturday when two automobiles collided at the intersection of Junipero Serra Blvd. and Junipero Serra Extension.

She was riding in a car driven by Leo M. Neist, 44. Neist's car collided with a parked automobile owned by Carl R. Owens, 37, of Napa, the California Highway Patrol reported today.

Menlo Park Red Cross Worker in France Receives Award From Lt. Gen. George Patton

Rosalie Palmer, daughter of Col. and Mrs. LeRoy H. Palmer of Menlo Park and supervisor of a Red Cross clubmobile unit now serving men of Lt. Gen. George Patton's Third Army in France, wears the Third Army shoulder patch, officially ordered for the clubmobile personnel by the general himself.

Awarding of the patches to the women was today revealed in a dispatch from General Patton's headquarters, somewhere in France, where Clubmobile Group "L," comprising eight clubmobile vans and 31 Red Cross women recently arrived.

The reception accorded the girls at the gigantic tented base was all out of proportion to the welcome accorded most official arrivals, the release states.

As Dorothy Hood, Red Cross worker from Houston, Tex., stated, "The enlisted men whistled and hollered and waved. The GI band brought all their instruments out of their woods into ours, and proceeded to blast the leaves from the trees!"

When the girls arrived, General Patton assigned six men full time jobs with the clubmobilists. All armed, several of the soldiers are repair men while others are general all-around assistants.

Rules and regulations for the girls were suggested by General Patton himself.

Each team must come rolling in by 8 o'clock in the evening. Enemy fighters might spot the slow-moving, heavily-laden vans. Cats-eyes, the only lights permitted on roving vehicles in the vicinity, give off only a dull gleam and cannot pierce the gloom sharply enough to reveal shell holes that still pockmark the highways.

Two military police guard the girl's living quarters and no one can enter or leave without calling the guard on duty and giving him the password which changes every night.

Each Red Cross trouper has been made responsible for army detail duty. This includes policing of cooking and living areas, camouflaging of tents and the gray clubmobiles, rations and food supply, gassing and repair of vehicles, water supply, supervision of trailers and supply trucks, and stores and laundry detail.

General Patton stops by as often as possible, between visits to the front lines, to check on the welfare of the women. Before the forward echelon moved on, the Red Cross girls had lunch or dinner with the general and his staff.

Miss Palmer, who volunteered for service in the Red Cross in June, 1943, went to England more than a year ago, moving into France in August.

She is a graduate of George Washington University in Washington, D. C., and is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. She also attended schools in France, and was a student at Sorbonne University in Paris.

Before leaving for duty with the Red Cross, she was employed at an Arizona army air field.

Her parents, who formerly resided in Tucson, have resided at 1101 Bay Laurel Ave., Menlo Park, since Colonel Palmer's retirement from the quartermaster corps a year ago.

James McDonald III, Wife Reconciled

The spectacular James K. McDonald III of Hillsborough, heir to Standard Oil millions whose marital career includes two divorces in one day at Reno, Nev., continued to play a spectacular role this week.

Late Friday afternoon McDonald filed an 11-point denial in superior court here to sensational charges filed more than a month earlier by his wife, June K. McDonald. Mrs. McDonald charged, among other things, that her husband had committed adultery in Reno between the period of Sept. 18 and 24, a charge that McDonald denied.

Yesterday, three days after the filing of McDonald's staunch denials, Ernest Wilson, attorney for McDonald, declared in Judge Aylett R. Cotton's superior court that the McDonalds are reconciled and are living together again.

Wilson also made the assertion that W. J. Mahaney, attorney for Mrs. McDonald, was trying to keep the divorce litigation alive for his own benefit. An order to show cause was discharged yesterday.

McDonald's career as a husband started in June, 1932, when he married Alecia Breeze of Berkeley. He was 18 and his wife was 16. A daughter, Jacqueline, was born.

In March, 1937, Mrs. McDonald was awarded a separate maintenance payment of $250 monthly by Judge Cotton. In June, 1938, she filed suit for divorce in Reno. On June 16, 1938, McDonald was divorced by his first wife. Ten minutes later he wed Doris Marie Cunningham, 20, of Hillsborough. As soon as the marriage was completed McDonald revealed the couple already had a 1½-year-old son, James McDonald IV.

In another 10 minutes the new Mrs. McDonald had filed a divorce suit, and her divorce was granted. The next day he married the present Mrs. McDonald. He was 24 and she was 18.

McDonald's grandfather was a partner of the late John D. Rockefeller.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonald sat side by side in the court room yesterday and walked down the stairs arm in arm. They joshed as they walked out of the court house that they were of one mind on today's election.

Wilson claimed that the McDonalds were reconciled Friday and charged that despite that fact, Mahaney called a conference on Saturday to make a settlement whereby Mrs. McDonald would get a specified amount of money.

Mahaney charged that Wilson was interested only in himself and declared he charged McDonald exorbitant fees.

Council Acts on Request Of Wings and Anchor Club

The Redwood City Wings and Anchor Club came closer to reality Monday when after Comdr. Howard McKinley, director of welfare for the 12th Naval District, had spoken in behalf of the club the Redwood City City Council took three steps toward the city sponsorship which is apparently needed before the club can go ahead with plans.

Steps taken by the council were:

1. Appointed Mayor W. W. Hilton, City Mgr. Robert W. Mead and City Atty. Paul A. McCarthy to a committee to meet with the board of directors of the club Thursday night in the city manager's office.

2. Instructed the city attorney to discuss with San Francisco city officials the methods used by that city in sponsoring like organizations and to learn methods of obtaining state aid through city sponsorship.

3. Instructed Mead to contact the State War Council for suggestions.

Commander McKinley who praised the undertaking of the Wings and Anchor Club, explained how like organizations had been set up in San Francisco and other cities and gave an explanation of the need for city sponsorship, a question which caused heated debate between A. B. Cheatham and Councilman C. C. Armstrong at the last meeting.

McKinley explained that the money of the Wings and Anchor Club (donations) would go directly into the city treasury and that the city could in turn appeal to the state for matching funds for this amount.

WAVE Lt. Comdr. Doris I. Westcott and WAC Lt. Sophia Webster, recruiting officer for the Peninsula urged that the council do all in its power in behalf of the project. Each pointed out the need for places of recreation and housing for women in the service in the Bay Area.

Cheatham again spoke in behalf of the club and again became involved in a heated argument with Councilman Armstrong. Cheatham reiterated that the city would take on no liability or obligation by endorsing the club. City Attorney McCarthy had previously concurred with this in stating that by endorsement of the worthiness of the Wings and Anchor Club, neither the city nor any of its personnel would assume any liability or obligation. However, McCarthy qualified his report in pointing out the distinction between endorsing the worthiness of the organization and city sponsorship where the funds of the club would be handled through the city treasury.

Cheatham insisted that under neither circumstances would the city assume any liability or obligation but that the club sought the sponsorship in order to seek certain state, army and navy aid through being a semi-municipal organization.

Armstrong again questioned Cheatham.

"The intimation was last time that I was a liar and it seems to be the same this time," Cheatham protested.

"No one is trying to defeat your purpose," Armstrong said.

"It is with great patience that I'm even talking to you," Cheatham said, looking at Armstrong.

Wayne Millington representing the Lions Club then took the floor and stated that the Lions had unanimously approved the club.

Following further discussion, the council decided that it was first necessary to learn how matching funds could be obtained from the state and the exact steps the city must take in sponsorship, and if such steps are taken, the financial position in which the city would be.

It was then voted to take the three steps and if the information received and the results of the meeting proved favorable, the council agreed to call a special meeting to go ahead with the requested steps.

Mrs. Gladys Wilson, another director of the Wings and Anchor Club also spoke in behalf of the organization and urged quick action.

It is the hope of the Wings and Anchor Club to operate in the Behrens' home at 1240 Jefferson St.

Hold-up Trio Hearing Set

Preliminary hearing for two young wives of service men and a Long Beach man who has served a term in a federal reformatory, charged with armed robbery after holding up a San Carlos service station Saturday night, will be held in San Carlos Police Court Friday at 7:30 p.m.

The three were arraigned before Judge R. C. Johnson last night. Bail for Ralph W. Goslaw, 21, was set at $10,000, and bail for Mrs. Patricia McMinn, 17, and Mrs. Marian Ethridge, 19, was set at $5000 each. Mrs. McMinn's husband is with the army overseas and Mrs. Ethridge's husband is with the army stationed in Louisiana.

The three are charged with holding up Francis D. Hansen of Redwood City at gun point and robbing his Mohawk Service Station on El Camino Real at Greenwood Ave., San Carlos, of $50 in cash and gas ration stamps.

The trio was captured at the Top Hat here by Redwood City police while San Carlos police waited outside the tavern.

County Scouters Seminar Slated Here Next Tuesday

A scouters' seminar for the purpose of making the effort of scout leaders more effective and worthwhile will be held in the Central School next Tuesday at 7:45 o'clock, according to Ian E. Lang, chairman of the leadership-training committee of the San Mateo Boy Scout Council.

The seminar is for all registered scouters, scout parents and any man over 18 years who is interested in taking part in the scout program.

Lang reported that the contents of the seminar discussions will be such that they will be interesting to any civic minded person interested in boys and will enable them to enter into scouting in an active capacity if they wish to do so. Fundamental elements of the organization and the actual operation procedure of a scout unit will be thoroughly discussed. An exchange of practical and workable ideas will be encouraged, Lang said.

Registration for the seminar can be made by calling the branch office in Redwood City on Tuesday afternoons or evenings or by notifying the council headquarters in Burlingame—phone 3-3666.

BY JOE CABOOSE

The nicest part of a trip is . . . coming home! Redwood City is a particularly nice place to come home to. One gets awfully homesick for it after four weeks of such substitutes as Chicago, New York, Washington, New Orleans and Gadsen, Ala. Gadsen, our former home town, was especially humiliating. There we experienced three such perfect Indian summer days that we never got a word in about California.

★ ★ ★

Chicago is the place where we dropped our brief case and broke a bottle of snake medicine which ran through all our important papers and then trickled into the kit of toilet articles and gave our shaving cream and toothpaste a peculiar bourbon flavor.

★ ★ ★

New York we shall always remember for being thrown out of the Waldorf Astoria hotel in order that President Roosevelt might have our suite. Well, we weren't exactly "thrown out." We had planned to check out Saturday, Oct. 21, anyhow. That was the day Roosevelt came to New York to address the Foreign Policy Assn. at the Waldorf. We had an east-wing suite, two large bedrooms with a parlor between. Friday night, the Waldorf manager phoned to ask if we wouldn't check out a few hours earlier in order to make the suite available for President Roosevelt. At first we thought we were being kidded. They said they wanted that particular suite for the President because it was only a few steps from a guest elevator and just around the corner from a service elevator. So we okayed the deal, and in five minutes a half dozen workmen were up there running special telephone wires and radio cables into the place. Isn't that exciting? Now President Roosevelt can point to a certain Waldorf bed and say, "Joe Caboose slept there!"

★ ★ ★

Washington we remember merely as a place we passed through. A lot of others will have the same fleeting recollection after the votes are counted tomorrow night.

★ ★ ★

We have already mentioned Gadsen, Ala. That is where Pappy lives, and five brothers, and more nieces and nephews than you can count. When Caboose's folks moved to Gadsen in 1907 the town's population was 10,557. Today it is well over 50,000. The increased population is not altogether due to the fact that Caboose's folks live there.

When we were a boy around Gadsen we used to dread the sight of the county poor farm which was two or three miles out the Hokes Bluff Rd. beyond our home. With our big family of 10 it was hard scratching to keep body and soul together and that darn poor house "just over the hill" used to haunt us. It seemed inevitable that it must get us all in the end. We thought of that on our recent visit and asked our brother, Raymond, if the poor house was still there. "Yes, it's still there," he said, "but it doesn't have many inmates. People won't go there because they won't build 'em garages for their automobiles."

We stopped overnight in New Orleans and as we were going down the train shed to board the Sunset Limited for California we heard someone shout "Hello, there, Redwood City!" It was Katy Ferraro of the Sequoia Grocery. With her was her mother, Mrs. Providence Grecco, and her niece, Provie Ferraro, also of Redwood City, and another niece, Conchetta (Sherry) Ferraro of New Orleans, who was going to Redwood City to convalesce from a recent illness. Katy, Mrs. Grecco and Provie had been visiting relatives in New Orleans. It was nice to meet someone from home . . . that far from home . . . and to enjoy their company en route. In New York we were delightfully entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Taylor of 71 Park Ave., and Miss Betty Silverthorne. The ladies are sisters of Commuter Willis Silverthorne of Redwood City.

We haven't been back long enough to have garnered much commuter news, but this much we know: Secrtary McKeegan, alias "Locomotive Bill," did a bangup job of writing the column, for which we are very grateful. Last Monday was missed because Bill also was out of town. For the same reason, no letter went out this week on the monthly dinner meeting Thursday night at the Women's Clubhouse on Clinton St. So all you good commuters make note of it now. Dinner at 7, Women's Club, Thursday, Nov. 9. Commander Edwards, USN, will be the guest speaker, and they say he is "top flight."

Directors will meet tomorrow night (election night) at Lou Reiss' house. Lou promises not to let club business interefere with getting the election returns. . . . Ray Rath attended his first meeting last month after being a member of the club for more than a year. Here's hoping he becomes a "regular." . . . Miles McDonald has been unable to attend lately because of illness, but he's better now and we hope to see him Thursday night. . . . Charley Woodmansee returned home yesterday from the hospital and is expected soon to be up and around. . . . Harry Harrison refuses to let the flu interfere with his campaign work. . . . Charley Hellwig would be glad to have you "drop in" on your way to the meeting Thursday night. . . . Congratulations to Fred Duttweiler on becoming a grandfather. . . . By the way, how is Tom Cutting doing?

Maybe Joseph (Allah) McClellan, our favorite philosopher, is right. He says most of us undertake too much. "Remember," says Joe, "the dog who chases two rabbits loses both."

P.A. Draftsman Hits Employment Clerk in Mouth

Admitting to San Mateo County sheriff deputies that he hit Miss Marie T. Bolton, 131 Barriolhet Ave., San Mateo, on the mouth after the two had passed a flurry of words, Robert Connell, 23, of Palo Alto, was arrested Wednesday on a charge of battery and placed in the county jail.

Miss Bolton, clerk in the United States Employment Service office in the basement of the court house, was in a nervous condition today. Dep. Sheriffs Walter Moore and Jack Minehan said, after Connell's admitted attack.

Moore reported that Connell entered the USES office for the purpose of getting a War Manpower Commission release to transfer from the National Motor Bearing Co., to Western Pipe and Steel Co., where he was to go to work as a draftsman.

Taking issue with one of Miss Bolton's questions, Connell struck the woman in the mouth, sheriff's investigators explained.

Deputies added that following the reported attack, Connell left the court house building and began walking toward Broadway, but Mrs. Emily Wroolie, 2833 El Camino Real, San Mateo, also employed at the USES offices and who had been a witness to the argument, followed him to the street and called to Deputy Minehan, who was across the street at the sheriff's office.

Minehan reported that he pursued Connell to Broadway, where the man engaged in a struggle with the deputy before Minehan managed to take him into custody.

Connell is in the county jail pending placing formal charges and setting of bail by Municipal Judge Edward L. McAuliffe.

Morrish Resigns Civil Service Post

A member of the San Mateo Civil Service Commission for nearly two years, J. Elmer Morrish, vice-president of the First National Bank in Redwood City filed his resignation from the commission, effective immediately.

In accepting the resignation, the Board of Supervisors announced that it was reluctant to do so, in view of the record Morrish had maintained as a member of the commission since his appointment by the board in January, 1943.

Morrish gave his reason for resigning as lack of time to devote to the duties of the office.

No successor is expected to be named officially until the supervisors meet again, Nov. 21.

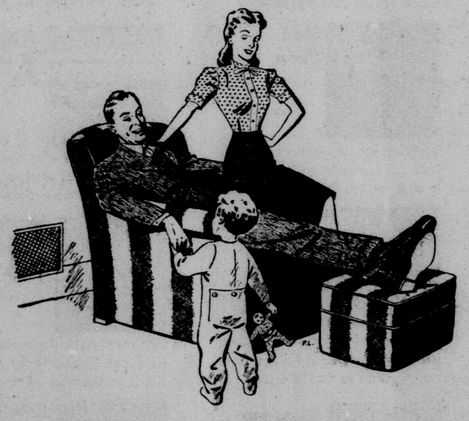
George Washington vetoed but two bills during his Presidency.

County To Begin Survey On Retirement Fund

In an effort to determine the values of the annuities, San Mateo County will conduct a survey of its employe's retirement fund, following approval by the board of supervisors of a measure calling for expenditure of $1475 to ascertain the results of the first year's operation under the county system.

The proposal, brought before the board by Treas. A. H. Sagehorn, is the first of the annual reports that will be made as part of the county-controlled retirement fund.

KEEP HEALTHFULLY WARM THIS WINTER



Give your Heating Equipment a little practical servicing. You'll get more heat. You'll save money.

JUST as you get better mileage and more power from your automobile by cleaning spark plugs, removing carbon and tuning up the motor—a cleanup and tune-up of your heating equipment will result in better performance during the winter season.

First of all do this... If you have not cleaned out the cold air return to your furnace or the furnace pit of your floor furnace—do it now. The collection of dust drawn from the floor packs into such places and definitely affects the circulation of heat. Clean with brush and dustpan or vacuum cleaner attachment.

If you have a blower-type furnace, call your heating dealer for this four-point servicing. One—install new filters. Two — oil motor and bearings. Three — make needed adjustments. Four—readjust or relight the pilot.

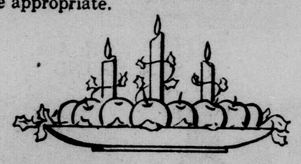
Look before you eat!

Try buying brilliantly colored fall fruits and vegetables when they are firm and slightly underripe. Use them as table and home decorations while they're reaching full maturity—then turn them into delicious health-building food.

Let your imagination run riot—even the most casual arrangement will sometimes produce the most dramatic effect.

The following ideas suggest the unlimited possibilities.

Arrange apples—shiny and red—in a pedestal or low bowl, and tuck among them three sprigs of ivy, of different lengths. (It's a safe rule always to use some kind of foliage in these arrangements.) Or use green apples, if that color seems more appropriate.



For a centerpiece, hang garlands of grapes over the stem of a richly yellow pumpkin. Rest the pumpkin on a circle of brown leaves. Flank it with tall orange candles.

String three grapefruit, of graduated sizes, on a balloon stick, (or attach one to another with toothpicks). Tuck ivy or lemon leaves between the fruit and around the bottom. Use flower frog to stand the arrangement upright.

Stand a large eggplant, stem up, on any flat dish. Hang a cluster of grapes from the stem, and surround the eggplant with lemons, and stand a few bananas around it if they are available. "Garnish" with ivy leaves.
